Reinvesting in Port Huron's South Park

While waiting for final HUD approval for the purchase of the building, the City began operating the Harvey Center in September 2025.

To date, the City has invested over $100,000 in the Center, including:

- Capital improvements to the building
- Interior upgrades to the community rooms
- Modern A/V technology upgrades
- Creation of flexible office space and professional Board Room
